DETAILED ACTIONDrawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the details of the side strip (claims 26-29) and the fastener (claims 25, 29, and 30) must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Objections

2. Claim 26 is objected to. Claim 26 recites "the interconnecting side strip". This lacks antecedent basis in the claims. It appears that claim 26 should depend from claim 24, not claim 25. This will be assumed. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hutton et al. (US 5,560,093). Hutton shows a sign for displaying indicia. The sign has a housing having a body portion (25, 26) made up of panels (27). The outer surface of the panels is a display portion on which indicia (50) may be attached. The sign comprises at least one collar arrangement (22). It is located at the top end of the sign. It is shown in detail in figs 1 and 6. the collar has an opening through which the support element (10) is received. The collar arrangement has individual collar portions of different sizes and arranged in a stepped relationship to one another (figs 1 and 6). The individual collar portion form openings of different sizes. The size of a respective opening can be measured either along the longitudinal axis of the post (10) or orthogonal thereto – either way, one can differentiate different collar portions that form different sized openings.

5. Still regarding claim 17, the recitation “so that the individual collar portions can be selectively cut or trimmed ... by a fastener” is an intended use or functional recitation. A recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim. In a claim drawn to a process of making, the intended use must result in a manipulative difference as compared to the prior art. See In re Casey, 370 F.2d 576, 152 USPQ 235 (CCPA 1967) and In re Otto, 312 F.2d 937, 939, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963). In this case, the Hutton collar portions could theoretically be cut or trimmed to provide an opening of a different size. For example the collar shown in figure 6 could theoretically be cut at the location where the lead line for the reference character “28” intersects the collar portion. This would result in an opening of a different size that could receive a post that had a small protuberance. Since the Hutton structure is capable of performing the intended use or function, it reads on the claim.

6. Claim 18, a collar arrangement is located at both the top and bottom end of the sing.

7. Claim 19, the collar portions are arranged substantially parallel and concentric.

8. Claim 20, the collar portions comprise alternating flanges and risers.

9. Claim 21, the flanges are between risers, and the risers are between flanges.

Art Unit: 3617

10. Claim 22, the display portion is either planar or curved.
11. Claim 23, the display portion is a display panel (27). Sheet (50) can be stapled directly on the panel.
12. Claim 24, the sign has a side strip (15) that engages portions of housings.
13. Claim 25, Hutton discloses a backing member (76) can be placed between the housing and support. Fastener (37) holds the housing to the backing member.
14. Claims 26-29, see figures 3 and 4.
15. Claim 30, Hutton discloses fastener (37) that is a band of strapping material
16. Claim 31, Hutton shows that the support element is a post.
17. Claim 32, the recitation that the sign is a road traffic sign is an intended use. The Hutton sign could be used as a road traffic sign.

Response to Arguments

18. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 17-32 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

19. This action is a final rejection and is intended to close the prosecution of this application. Applicant's reply under 37 CFR 1.113 to this action is limited either to an appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences or to an amendment complying with the requirements set forth below.

Art Unit: 3617

If applicant should desire to appeal any rejection made by the examiner, a Notice of Appeal must be filed within the period for reply identifying the rejected claim or claims appealed. The Notice of Appeal must be accompanied by the required appeal fee.

If applicant should desire to file an amendment, entry of a proposed amendment after final rejection cannot be made as a matter of right unless it merely cancels claims or complies with a formal requirement made earlier. Amendments touching the merits of the application which otherwise might not be proper may be admitted upon a showing a good and sufficient reasons why they are necessary and why they were not presented earlier.

A reply under 37 CFR 1.113 to a final rejection must include the appeal from, or cancellation of, each rejected claim. The filing of an amendment after final rejection, whether or not it is entered, does not stop the running of the statutory period for reply to the final rejection unless the examiner holds the claims to be in condition for allowance. Accordingly, if a Notice of Appeal has not been filed properly within the period for reply, or any extension of this period obtained under either 37 CFR 1.136(a) or (b), the application will become abandoned.

20. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

Art Unit: 3617

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

21. The following are suggested formats for either a Certificate of Mailing or Certificate of Transmission under 37 CFR 1.8(a). The certification may be included with all correspondence concerning this application or proceeding to establish a date of mailing or transmission under 37 CFR 1.8(a). Proper use of this procedure will result in such communication being considered as timely if the established date is within the required period for reply. The Certificate should be signed by the individual actually depositing or transmitting the correspondence or by an individual who, upon information and belief, expects the correspondence to be mailed or transmitted in the normal course of business by another no later than the date indicated.
